The Carmel Pine Cone

This view of the Big Sur coast was photographed by a Weston—not by Edward, Cole or Brett—but by Kim, 13-year-old son of Cole Weston and grandson of the famous Edward Weston.

Kim, who started following in his family's photographic footsteps at the age of nine, already has earned honors in his own right. Last year he won the Eastman Kodak Award for National Scholastic Achievement with the picture above.

Kim, now in the seventh grade at Carmel Middle School, is very much interested in football and can't wait to get to high school where he can "really play." Fishing and sailing are also on his list of things he likes to do but photography is his means of artistic expression as well can be observed by this picture.

Annexation Vote Set For April 18

The city council, Tuesday, set April 18 as the date of a special election for residents of an area of the Mission Tract proposed to be annexed to Carmel. This action followed an adjourned council meeting for opponents of the annexation to present, in writing, objections of property owners in the area.

Proponents were given the same opportunity to increase support of the annexation. On Tuesday five additional properties were added to the list of proponents considered by the council on February 8 by action of Edith S.K. Clarke, Agnes I. Trumbly, Donald P. and Wilma M. Downs, Mary V. and Mrs. A. E. Rembolt and Hede Vaseh, who previously had opposed the annexation.

City Clerk Hugh Bayless certified for the council that the assessed value of land owned by proponents exceeded the assessed value of land owned by opponents, as the latter only owned 36.79 percent of the land value of the area.

By state law, only land value may be considered, and no annexation election can be called unless the value of proponents' land is over 50 percent of the land value in the area. Bayless stated his figure had been obtained by checking the land values in the area from Monterey County records.

Dan Daly, an attorney representing two opponents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carr, also, he stated, W. Whiting Reed, another opponent, asked for a ten-day delay in any council action on annexation procedure.

Brigadier General Robert P. Williams (Ret.), speaking for the proponents, said "All we ask for is the right to vote." This request the council granted in setting the April 18 annexation election.

The area involved is bounded by the east side of Rio Road, south side of Santa Lucia Street, west side of Dolores Street and the south line of lots fronting on Franciscan Way.

Taxpayers Bulletin Asks 'No' Vote On School Override Tax

A bulletin opposing the proposed 37 cent override tax for five years in the Carmel Unified School District is being distributed through the mails by the Monterey Peninsula Taxpayers Association. The override election is on March 7. In the same election, voters will be asked to extend an existing 50 cent override, which expires on June 30, 1968, for four more years.

The taxpayers association states in the bulletin that "the increased tax rate together with increased assessments would cost the Carmel District taxpayers $580,000 per year more in property tax, a total

Farr And Hudson Take New Roles In Conservation

New jobs in the field of conservation have been taken by former State Senator Fred Farr of Carmel and Supervisor Thomson J. Hudson of Point Lobos.

A week ago, Farr's appointment as federal highway beautification coordinator, at a yearly salary of $22,270, was announced at the White House. Farr, a Democrat, was defeated for reelection to the state senate as a representative of Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Benito and San Luis Obispo counties in November by Republican Senator Donald L. Grunsky of Watsonville. Farr had represented Monterey County, before reapportionment, for nearly 12 years.

In his new job he will be advisor on highway beautification to Lowell K. Bridwell, federal highway administrator in the U.S. Department of Transportation.

Farr was the sponsor of California's scenic highway system legislation and instrumental in having Highway One south of Carmel designated as first unit in this system by Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hudson announced Tuesday that he is resigning from the Monterey County Board of Supervisors to become an unpaid consultant on conservation and planning in Governor Ronald Reagan's office, at the invitation of Reagan. He has represented the county's fifth supervisorial district, which includes the Carmel area, for ten years.

LINES FROM THE STUDIO

While in New York, we saw several examples of theatre at its finest. But color us parochial, we also witnessed some acting and direction that the Studio and the Circle would not have tolerated. Wtih an orchestra seat on Broadway selling at $7.50 (musicals much more), we came back a trifle smug about the value offered by our dinner and show combination at $5.50. Not to mention the show alone at $2.75. Especially when the show is "Catch Me If You Can," the diabolically clever mystery-comedy which has delighted sold-out houses since it opened. Who is Elizabeth Corban? Find out for yourself any Friday, Saturday or Sunday night. P.S. Congratulations Mac Ward and the Little Theatre of Monroe on the opening of "Camelot."

Carmel Is Unequalled True Resident Believes

by Margot Hyatt

If he is not an artist, writer, musician or some sort of creative person, the true Carmelite secretly wishes he were, and he likes to read, go to concerts and plays, and to have paintings in his home done by artist friends. While poor struggling Bohemians can no longer afford to live here, the artist who can finds a discriminating market.

More and more, young executives involved in research and education and persons retired from the professional and business world come to Carmel to live. These people appreciate the unique qualities of this community which cannot be equalled elsewhere.

They expect for their children far more than the usual educational fare. They want small classes, teacher specialists, the latest in technical equipment, well planned schools, and the carrying out of an educational philosophy which will best develop the latent talents of their youngsters.

At Carmel Middle School which educates all the fifth through eighth graders in the area, we have the strange situation of an outstanding physical plant,well equipped, built by bond issue two years ago, now inadequately staffed and maintained because of failure of the 70 cent override tax last year.

What are some of the pluses and minuses of this school designed to allow team teachers to instruct in their specialty rather than attempt to do justice to six or eight subjects; also to allow students to be grouped by ability so that they are not held back by the slow, or constantly defeated by the fast?

"The myth that a fifth or sixth grade student still needs a mother figure is exploded at Middle School," said Orville Rogers, principal. "These youngsters are receiving a greater challenge from teacher specialists, and are starting sooner to have the advantage of labs and shop equipment. Unfortunately, increased enrollment has created a need for more teachers and we are already faced with a space problem. Huge teaching loads of 150 or more do not allow time for enough essay-type written work, nor for teachers to get closely acquainted with their charges."

Heart of the school is the Stuart Mitchell Library containing a wealth of reference books, nonfiction and children's literature, also books for teachers.

"Look for a poem to read out loud and tell us why you like it," instructed Mrs. Priscilla Nesbitt. She reads poetry to a volunteer group each day at lunch time. Her students display outstanding creativity.

A project in which fast eighth grade readers interview slow fifth grade readers, then write stories they think will interest the slow readers, has proved mutually helpful in Nancy Loyd's classes. Her slow readers also use a tape recorder for improving their ability. Students keep track of their reading rate.

"A journey of 1,000 miles begins with a single step", pointed out Mrs. Willie Belle Mason to her sharp class of Modern Algebra students, five of whom have been selected to go into a gifted class at the Naval Postgraduate School next year. It is a tribute to her ability that she can keep 40 "individualists" on the edges of their seats for a whole period.

"Nowadays," Mrs. Mason said, "we want children to know why, not just accept a formula." Her slow eighth grade class of 30, with reading problems, are responding well to the new "Basic Modern Math" in which reading is simplified. Both these classes are for larger than the ideal maximum of 25.

A microphone was being used by the teacher of four American History classes combined in an area created by pushing back wall dividers. An over head projector projected John Collins' map of the Thirteen Colonies showing locations of Mt. Vernon and other key spots covered by the sound movie soon to be shown. The noise factor from the scraping of 160 chairs was high. Donald Blakeman said the floors were never waxed due to lack of manpower.

Another day, students chuckled at a record describing the American Revolution in modern vernacular. Blakeman asked a pointed question: "What if the people of that day had been content to stand pat, not to get involved, not to question the authority of the British?"

This same large group later took a quiz using mimeographed answer cards which would be checked by computer to save time better spent on planning. Results of tests, along with teacher evaluations, are used for regrouping students.

The language department does a tremendous job of teaching French or Spanish aided by the language lab in which the teacher, sitting at the console, may tune in on any student as he mimics the native speakers he hears on tape recordings.

Financed by NEA and district funds, Middle School has probably the best equipped science lab for its age group of any around, according to Marvin Patterson. Students get a real introduction to chemistry, physics, astronomy and earth sciences, as well as work habits needed to perform experiments. Last year 260 projects were developed and displayed at the Science Fair.

The music department teaches notation, music history and appreciation as well as chorus and instrumental music. But imagine, no funds to repair instruments!

One art teacher, Joe Broadman, instructs 583 students.

Inspired by the Lyceum, a voluntary organization dedicated to involving talented individuals on the Peninsula in providing an enrichment program for our gifted children, the Parent-Faculty Club and Parent-Advisory Committee are leading groups of parents who will call on neighbors to urge them to vote for the 30 cent tax override on March 7 which will help provide desperately needed teachers to carry on programs reflecting the cultural level of this unique community.

Letter To Editor

Editor,
Carmel Pine Cone

We have read and very much enjoyed your article dated September 8 about Tais Guimaraes dos Santos, American Field Service student to Carmel High School from Brazil.

Thank you for giving our program such good publicity.

Would it be possible, at this late date, for you to send us a print of the photograph of Tais and her host sisters that was printed with the story in your paper?

Any good photographs of our students with their families in their communities are very helpful to us here in New York.

Sincerely,
Leslie Brooks,

Just a little note to tell you that the beautiful photograph by Edgar Bissantz of the ducks in the waters of the lagoon was one of the nicest front pages you have ever had. And the friendly words about our good friend Fred Farr fitted so well on this page since he did so much for preserving our beautiful landscape.

Sincerely,

WED IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Christina Lee (Tina) Stanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Lansing Stanford of Pebble Beach, last month became the bride of E. V. (Nick) Hodgkinson of Long Beach. The 2:30 p.m. ceremony took place in Green Hills Baptist Church in La Habra with the Reverend Jerry Tillman officiating.

Tina, who was escorted to the altar by her father, was clad in a floor length gown of peau de soie with a sculptured neckline and long sleeves. Re-embroidered alencon lace formed a panel on the bodice and skirt, giving a sheath effect in the front, and the semi-bouffant back flowed into a chapel train on which the lace motif was repeated. Her elbow length silk illusion veil was held by an open crown of alencon lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Tina carried a lace handkerchief which had been her grandmother's, also had been carried by her mother and sister-in-law at their weddings, and wore pearls which were given her by her cousin, Mrs. Chloe Wilson.

Pam Baldwin of Carmel was Tina's maid of honor and Mrs. James Rimes of Long Beach was bridesmaid. They wore full length yellow peau dresses with white lace bodices and matching coats. White and yellow roses were combined in their bouquets and yellow peau bows held their yellow net head veils.

Nick's best man was Dennis Scherek and his ushers were Tom Stanford, brother of the bride, Paul Larson and Michael Bushnell, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

The reception after the ceremony was held in Los Coyotes Country Club in Buena Park.

Tina, who attended Carmel High School, Pacific Grove High and graduated from Kingman High School in Kingman, Arizona, and Nick, who is a graduate of Laguna Beach Union High School, will make their home in Long Beach where he is now in management with Fiddler's Restaurants.

Raggetts Had Guests

Wedding plans were discussed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Raggett when they entertained Mr. and Mrs. Paul Layer Benson of Yuba City this past weekend. The Bensons are the parents of Michelle Yvonne Benson who became engaged to the Raggetts' son, Lieutenant Michael Mark Raggett, at Christmastime.

As it was the first time that the two families had met. "We just spent the time quietly getting to know one another and talking over the wedding plans," said Mrs. Raggett.

Mike, who is now serving on the U.S.S. Plunger, a nuclear powered attack submarine based at Pearl Harbor, and Michelle, who is teaching at Iroquois Point Elementary School at Ewa Beach, Oahu, Hawaii, have not set a date for their wedding. As soon as Mike gets his new orders, "sometime in March," plans for the happy event will go forward.

Party For Newlyweds

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Castagna of Carmel will give a cocktail party in honor of their new daughter-in-law, the former Wendy Anne Simpson of Sacramento, and their son, David tomorrow night.

The newlyweds will be staying with David's parents while they are in town. David and Wendy, who just returned from a two-week honeymoon in Hawaii, will greet over 100 guests at the party in David's parents' home.

David, who attended Carmel schools, is employed by Dow Chemical, International, and is awaiting a new assignment that will take him to South America sometime in the near future. Until then, he and his bride will live in Coral Gables, Florida.

Sailing Adventure

Mr. and Mrs. John Geisen had as a house-guest last week one of the most interesting young Frenchmen to hit the West Coast for many years, Bernard Pichard. With his two cousins, Alain and Ann Herve, Bernard has just finished a sailing trip from France to this country.

Pichard, who was an electronics engineer in Paris and speaks four languages, and his cousins spent two and a half years carrying out their dream of world wide adventure. "In all the time we were on the high seas we never saw a ship or sail," Pichard stated.

The trip started in Paris and ended in San Francisco where the boat was sold. The Herves flew back to France leaving Bernard to finish his visit to this country. He has been here for three months and will leave sometime in early March for his home in Normandy, France.

Many pictures were taken of the voyage and now a book will soon be published, in France, telling all about the experiences on board the "Aventure." Alain Herve is on the staff of Realites magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Geisen gave several small parties for the world traveler while he was here and everyone was delighted to hear of the three young persons' experiences.

Two Weddings And Furlough

The former Ann Saulsbury, who became Mrs. Fred G. Thomas last December in El Paso, Texas, will be leaving for Germany to join her husband on March 2. An interesting sidelight to the marriage was that a few minutes before the wedding took place, Fred was handed his Army orders telling him to report, at once, to Georgia. From there he was sent to Germany so the young couple will have a lovely, if belated, honeymoon in Europe.

Ann's sister, Susan, was also a bride this year. She married Dan Aldrich of Carmel on January 4 in a quiet ceremony in Las Vegas. The young couple's parents are Mrs. Emily Saulsbury and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Aldrich, all of Carmel. Dan and his wife are living here and Dan works for the Quality Meat Market.

"If two weddings in that many months were not enough excitement for one mother" Mrs. Saulsbury said, "my son Robert arrived home on leave from his duties with the Navy last week."

Robert, who has been stationed in Washington D. C., is with the Naval Photographic Center there and was recently sent to the Eastman Kodak School to learn more about naval photography. He will be here for the next few weeks while he awaits his new orders and his mother is delighted to be able to visit with him after almost two years of separation.

Mademoiselle Guest Editor

A member of the Class of 1970 at the University of California, Berkeley, Pamela Tatiana Anikeef, has been selected by Mademoiselle magazine to serve on the publication's college board.

Each member of this board has an opportunity to contribute to Mademoiselle and helps the magazine keep abreast of campus trends. Pamela will report regularly to Mademoiselle on events at Cal, do research for articles and help the magazine's fashion editors select models for college style features. She will remain on Mademoiselle's college board until she graduates and will be eligible to compete for a guest editorship. Girls selected as guest editors spend the month of June in New York as salaried employees of Mademoiselle and help regular editors put out the August issue of the magazine.

January Wedding

Florence Zweta Nedeff, daughter of Professor and Mrs. Mitko Nedeff of Carmel Valley, and Donald Eugene Martin, son of Mr. Jack Martin of Carmel and Mrs. Beatrice Martin of Balboa, were married on January 28 at the Church of the Wayfarer. Reverend George D. Greer performed the noon ceremony. A reception followed in the ballroom of the Presidio of Monterey Officers' Club. Later a dinner was given for the newlyweds at the Nedeffs' home in Carmel Valley.

Marjorie Seiffert of Carmel was maid of honor and John Eversoll, also of Carmel, was the best man. Nikki Nedeff, the bride's sister, was the flower girl and Stanley Martin, son of the bridegroom from a former marriage, the ring bearer.

Florence was graduated from Carmel High School and received her A. A. degree from Monterey Peninsula College. She has a bachelor's degree from the University of California, Berkeley, and an M. A. from the Monterey Institute of Foreign Studies and was a teacher at Santa Catalina School for Girls.

Her husband, a graduate of Carmel High School, got his A. A. degree from Monterey Peninsula College and is now attending the University of California at Berkeley where he will complete his studies in electronic engineering this Spring.

The young couple will live in Berkeley until this summer when they will return to Hermosa Beach, Mr. Martin's former home, for him to resume his position with an electronics firm.

Production Manager

James B. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Smith, Jr., is production manager and in charge of set construction for the production of "Stop the World, I Want to Get Off" being presented by George Williams College, Downers Grove, Illinois, February 23 through 26.

He is a senior at the college majoring in social sciences.

ELSTOBS RETURN TO CARMEL

Home again, after ten months in England and southern Europe are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Elstob who read the Pine Cone for all the Carmel news while abroad. "There have been terrific changes and all of them exciting," Carolyn Elstob told Pine Cone Publisher Al Cook when she visited the paper this week.

The Frederick Elstobs flew to New York last April and boarded the Holland American liner "Prinsis Margrit" for Rotterdam. "Our first real stop was London, where we visited Fred's son, Peter, and his wife, Barbara," Carolyn reports Peter, whose historical novels have appeared on London's bestseller lists has visited Carmel and has many friends here.

"On the day of our arrival we were whirled off to the U. S. Embassy where Barbara Elstob had four of her paintings hung in a gala showing of American artists. We went on to the P.E.N. Club (Publishers, Editors, Novelists) and dined at the Savage Club. Every minute of our stay in London and visiting family in Essex and Hampshire was exciting."

The Elstobs continued on to Portugal. "Two months of housekeeping in an apartment in Estoril were hilarious. My attempts at Portuguese earned roars of laughter on the part of the shopkeepers. We spent two months in the magic city of Lisbon in a hotel," says Carolyn.

The Elstobs next visited Paris; then back to London and finally, Madeira where, "On January 22, we boarded the P. and O. cruise ship 'Iberia'. During three weeks aboard I never really did steer the ship with 900 souls aboard. Our jolly Captain R. B. Vickers was too wise for that," Carolyn remarks about the picture, above.

MR. AND MRS. TITO JUAN BIANCHI

Cameron Leigh Butts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts of Pebble Beach, was married on February 10 to Tito Juan Bianchi of San Francisco in the First Presbyterian Church of Monterey. The 4 p.m. afternoon service was read by the Reverend Elmer Roy.

Nine-foot almond blossom trees flanked the altar and magnolia trees were arranged along the walls of the church with bouquets of wild ferns marking the entrance to the pews.

Cameron wore an Empire gown of pale ivory satin with a long A-line skirt which had open side panels and a Watteau train. Her tiered veil of silk illusion was held in place by a band of lilies of the valley and baby white roses and she carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

Mrs. Peter Stent (Nora Bianchi) of Chico, the bridegroom's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a Samaron rose dress fashioned with an Empire bodice and a long A-line skirt. Her short jacket was designed with bell sleeves and her bouquet of roses and carnations shaded from pale pink to pomegranate red.

The other bridal attendants were dressed in identically styled gowns of pomegranate red with bouquets of similar flowers in deeper shades. They were Pamela Clancy Hobson of Carmel, Jane Albert and Sandra Little of Pebble Beach and Diane Fleming of Tucson, Arizona. Their veils and shoes matched their gowns.

Beaumont Bianchi, brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. Adam Bianchi, another brother, ushered guests to their seats in the church, as did also the bride's two brothers, J. Arch Butts III of New York and Donald Butts of Pebble Beach, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Peter Stent of Chico, Tom Gray of Los Angeles and Stewart Cureton of Santa Cruz.

A reception at Del Monte Lodge followed the wedding ceremony. The guests were greeted in the main lounge before an Oriental screen banked with maple trees and white azaleas. An eight-foot tall arrangement of white flowers was placed on the buffet table. Tables edging the dance floor were covered with pink cloths and centered with pink and red tulips and hyacinths. Magnolia trees formed a background of green in the dining room.

Cameron and her husband cut their wedding cake in front of a large picture window that afforded a beautiful view of the bay. The cake was topped with lilies of the valley and trimmed at the base with bouvardia and smilax.

The bride is the granddaughter of General and Mrs. Donald C. Cubbison of Carmel and the late Mr. and Mrs. J. Arch Butts of Wichita, Kansas. She is a graduate of Santa Catalina School for Girls and is in her junior year at Stanford University. She attended Stanford-in-Italy for six months last year.

Tito is the son of Mrs. John Keller Ames of Atherton and the late Tito Bianchi of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Choate School and of Stanford University where he was a member of Beta Theta Pi. With his marriage, he relinquished membership in The Bachelors of San Francisco.

After a Hawaiian Island honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Bianchi were to go to Pensacola, Florida, where the bridegroom will attend Naval Air Force Officer's Candidate School.

AROUND THE WORLD IN 80 DAYS

Mrs. Anzel Metaxas, whose theme song might well be "Around the World in Eighty Days," has just returned from a trip in which she did just that. "I flew on every airplane known to man and had a wonderful time," she said.

Japan was her first stop and she reported it was not only cold—she arrived in November—but very expensive. A quick flight to Hong Kong was next and in this city she had a great time shopping and sightseeing.

In Singapore, Anzel stayed with her daughter, Susan, and son-in-law Steve Pearsall for two weeks. The Pearsalls have lived in that city for five years and love it. "Who wouldn't love it with three maids and a gardener" Anzel commented.

Bangkok was her next stop and five days were spent in that city. "On the whole there isn't anywhere in the Orient that I would like to live or even visit again," Anzel summed up.

Jerusalem was next and Anzel was delighted with this great city. Although there was fighting in Jordan at the time of her visit, Anzel managed to tour the old city and would really like to go back sometime. "I was afraid that someone, by mistake, would hit me with a rock and then an international incident would develop and the whole country go up in flames."

Damascus and Beirut were the next cities she visited and a week was spent in each seeing the sights and getting the "local color" of the Middle East.

Three weeks were passed by Mrs. Metaxas in Athens and then she went to the Island of Capri where she spent some time with another Carmelite, Lillian Bava. The latter has been in Italy for several years painting and studying art and is having a wonderful time according to Anzel. "I think she is going to try to live in Paris where her oldest son Chris can go to school and she can study under several of the greatest painters in Europe." Anzel stated.

Paris and London were the final cities on her tour and then it was back to Carmel where, she said, "The first morning that I had to wake up for work the alarm went off and my first thought was—what flight and to what country do I go today?"

Enjoy Desert Sun

It was "Carmel Week" recently in Palm Springs with several residents there to enjoy the beautiful warm weather. Mrs. Gladys Johnston and her daughter, Mrs. Henry (Tiny) Newman, were the guests of Gladys's brother, Robert Riegg, who is the manager of the Ingleside Inn.

"We had a wonderful time at the Inn where the pool and the food were great," says Gladys. "The top was down on the car the whole time and we really got the most beautiful tans."

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nielsen of Carmel were also in Palm Springs celebrating their first wedding anniversary. They had a wonderful dinner at the Ingleside Inn which was attended by several of their friends.

The sun also shone on the William Burketts of Pebble Beach and Miss Helen Heavey of Carmel. Everyone there was soaking up the desert sunshine and enjoying themselves. The fact there were so many people from here made the Carmelites' vacations that much more fun.

PERMIT FOR THE WEARING OF SHOES WITH HEELS IN EXCESS OF CERTAIN LIMITATIONS

_____ having released the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea from any claims for damages arising from the wearing of shoes with heels thereon which are prohibited by Section 639.2 of the Municipal Code, the City of Carmel-by-the-Sea does hereby grant a permit to said person allowing the wearing of such shoes with heels in excess of the limits set by said section of the Municipal Code.

SPIKE HEEL PERMIT

DID YOU KNOW HIGH HEELS ARE ILLEGAL IN CARMEL?

The ladies above are obtaining permits to wear spike heels on the streets and sidewalks of Carmel. In order to do so they have released the city from any damage claims arising from their "wearing heels higher than two inches and with a bearing surface of less than one square inch" by signing the permit granted to them by City Administrator Hugh Bayless, at left. The spike heel law went into effect on January 3, 1964. So far only 67 ladies have taken out spike heel permits. The city council passed the law as a protective measure against wearers of high heels who might bring damage claims against the city as the result of slip and fall accidents.

Sunset Commission Told It Does Not Have To Make Money

"You don't have to make any money at all," Councilman Gunnar Norberg, on February 6, told the Sunset Commission in respect to rental of Sunset Center premises. He was commenting on a commission report which recommended renting a room each to Marlinde von Ruhs, an artist; Mary Burr Anthony, a ballet teacher; and Mary Woolems, a sculptress—at a total sum of $255 a month or $3,060 per year. With this amount and other approved rentals, income from this source would amount to $10,040 yearly, the report showed.

In support of the report, Commissioner Dr. James Gilman stated the commission unfortunately had run out of non-profit tenants and was now serious considering those making a profit. He referred to the fact that it costs $10,000 a year of city property tax revenue to maintain the municipal cultural and community center. The three proposed tenants would push income above this cost.

Dudley Nix opposed the Anthony rental on grounds that the city would be subsidizing, by low rental, a ballet school operating in conflict with the Nix Ballet Studio in the business district. He advised raising the ten cents a square foot rental rates at Sunset Center to provide added revenue.

By a 4-3 vote, the commission referred the three rentals to the arts commission for comment on providing space for the proposed three types of uses (sculpture, artist and ballet studios) at Sunset Center before taking final action.

On February 8, the city council approved other monthly rentals for Sunset Center premises referred to them by the Sunset Commission. These were Friends of Photography, $175; Bach Festival, $60; Community Theatre, $60; Monterey County Symphony, $25; Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association, $150; Harrison Memorial Library, $70; Carmel Unified School District, $50.

ELECTED TO MEDICAL ACADEMY

Dr. Russell Murray Pratt, of Carmel, has been elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, a national association of 29,000 family doctors.

As a member of the AAGP, Dr. Pratt will be required to complete 150 hours of postgraduate medical study every three years. The program, unique among medical associations, is designed to help member physicians keep abreast of the latest scientific developments in medicine.

Judges Named For Mi-Careme Ball

Judges for the annual Mi-Careme (Mid-Lent) Costume Dinner Dance, sponsored by l'Alliance Francaise of the Monterey Peninsula, have been announced by the event's chairmen, Mrs. John Dowdakin and Mrs. Henri Corbat. They are Mrs. Theodore Bradley, Mrs. Beaumont Newhall, Captain Ralph Arndt, Ansel Adams and Dr. Sorin Issvoran.

Costumes will be judged for their originality, authenticity and beauty as well as comic and daring qualities. Attractive masks created by members of l'Alliance will be on sale in the private ballroom of the Casa Munras in Monterey where the lively event will take place on March 2. Prizes will include dinners at Peninsula restaurants as well as imported gourmet delicacies and wines. There will also be a tombola or drawing of door prizes.

Proceeds will benefit the French language scholarship fund of the l'Alliance. Early reservations should be made with Mrs. John Dowdakin (659-2356); Mrs. Jerome Carlson (624-3195); Mrs. James Hathaway (372-1138) or Mrs. Russel Cadle (372-9242).

During 1899, William McKinley made automotive history by being the first president to ride in a motor vehicle while in office.

The other day I ran across an old list of rules written for telephone repairmen at the Chicago Telephone Company in 1911. I thought you might enjoy a few excerpts from this 56-year-old list: "Treat everybody as you like to be treated, not forgetting your horse; if you want to know the horse's side of it, just take off your coat and hat some zero day, hitch yourself to the same post with your belt, and stand there about two hours. Hereafter don't forget his blanket." Times have changed, but "treat everybody as you like to be treated" is still an idea we Pacific Telephone Employees on the Monterey Peninsula believe in—and try to live up to.

Did you know that you can dial direct to an Information Operator almost anywhere in the U.S.A. and Canada outside your own area? That's right—just dial the Area Code of the city you want and 555-1212. Because these calls are part of your phone service—there's never a charge for them. Don't forget—you'll find lots more information about Long Distance in the front pages of your phone book.

My Most Interesting Trip

(Sharing Spain With Washington Irving)

by Bonnee Voss

It was in the first chapter of "Tales of the Alhambra" that Washington Irving records his impressions and recollections of his journey from Seville to Granada taken in the Spring month of May in 1829. Irving and another diplomat, a Russian friend, made their way by caravan. There was a stout steed for each with a third for their Spanish guide-guard, Sancho.

The romance of travelling on the Peninsula brings recollections dear to the memory, says Irving—a romance somewhat dimmed for us on our drive to Granada this past August by intense heat—that pounding Andalusian heat familiar to summer travellers in the Mediterranean area. (Woe unto us, warned the travel guidebooks in advance.) Olive and cork trees basked in the heat and the fountains of the Alhambra and Generalife beckoned us.

WINS $25 BOND

With the publication of the travel story on this page, Bonnee Voss becomes the winner of a $25 U.S. Savings Bond. Two weeks ago, Betty Patchin Greene was awarded a similar bond. The prizes are for being the first two stories published in the Pine Cone's travel contest.

We shared with Irving his wonder at the grandeur of the expansive Spanish landscape, immense expanses of stark colors of the autumn before rains, but no wildflowers now. Often we were captured by just a single focal point: a hilltop monastery; east of Antequera the Sweetheart's Rock, resembling a dead Indian gazing skyward; a white town on a mountainside; Loja, a valley city dominated by its stone cathedrals.

No "bandoleros" were in evidence in mountain passes, a menace in Irving's time. There were no mountain passes on today's highways; no inns with singing, sparkling-eyed maidens dressed in leather and velvet. Instead shoe-shiners and living parking meters who will guide parallel parkers and then collect a small fee.

A lone dog, from nowhere, appeared to scavenge our picnic lunch remains. Burros labored along the roadway under loads of straw. There were Guardia Civil with their motorcycles parked facing each other on opposite sides of the highway. Fieldworkers gladly waved.

Perhaps the most interesting sight along the way was the step into pre-history provided by our visit to the megalithic graves near Antequera. These three national sites include two dolmens and a chamber considered a Druid temple. The immensity of the task of construction—one roof slab is said to weigh 180 tons—brings Stonehenge and the contemporary pyramids to mind.

Stepping into pre-history, into the burial rooms, and out of the sun, was one of the high though somewhat eerie, points of the trip, a deviation from Irving's itinerary as well.

The opening chapter of the Alhambra Tales may seem only to delay the Moorish enchantment of the Washington Irving legends, but for those who have made their own trip across Andalusia, sharing the journey with Irving by reading that chaper, it provides another sort of enchantment.

TRAVEL CONTEST ENTRANTS

The Pine Cone's travel contest closed on Monday. Accounts of "My Most Interesting Trip" have been received from Betty Patchin Greene, Bonnee Voss, Marcia F. De Voe, Gladys E. Killalee, Jean McKeown, John H. Livingstone, Dr. Faith Thomas, Margaret Blackburn, Hildegarde Haskell-Hanson, H. Tansen, Harriet Meyer, Carey Edson Olson, Mira Talbot, Anthony Hough, Dorothy Irene Thorne, Felicia Mummert, Louise Cardeiro Boyer, Ann L. Roper, L. R. Bemis, Doreen Relph and Mrs. Alvin J. Ferrera. These stories will be published in coming weeks.

Explorerama Film On Greece March 3

"Magnificent Greece", a new feature length travel and adventure film, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. on March 3 at Sunset Center auditorium.

The color film is accompanied by stereophonic musical backgrounds and sound effects which were recorded in Greece, and will be narrated in person by its photographer, Dwight Nichols.

The showing is part of the current Explorerama Carmel series which is presented by the Explorers Club of San Francisco. Advance tickets are available at Central Box Office.

Chamber Music Society Awards

On February 18, the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society held the auditions for the competition it sponsored offering $100 awards, each, to a pianist and to a string player under 25 years of age. The awards are for performance of a sonata, chamber concerto or other chamber work on one of the society's regular chamber music concerts.

Judges for the competition were Mrs. Joey Olaeta, pianist; Mrs. Elayne Chanslor, composer-pianist; Welton Lee, violinist.

Winner of the competition in piano was Susan Pavick, resident of Monterey and a student of Adolph Baller, with honorable mention to Holly Garcia, Carmel resident and student of Gilbert Boyer. Both Miss Pavick and Mr. Garcia will be guest soloists at the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society concert to be presented in Monterey Peninsula College Music Hall on May 28, at 3:30 p.m.

The judges decided to make no award for string performance at this time.

The Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra will be presented in concert tonight by the Carmel Music Society at 8:30 p.m. in Sunset Center auditorium.

Nadas And Stoia Recital Sunday

On Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the Monterey Peninsula Chamber Music Society will present its third concert of the season in Canterbury Woods, 651 Sinex Avenue, Pacific Grove, rather than at the Estrada Adobe as originally planned.

Appearing in a Sonata Recital for Violin and Piano will be the Rumanian violinist Eugene Stoia and Hungarian-born pianist Istvan Nadas, who made such a sensation during the last two Carmel Bach Festivals.

Their program will be the Sonatina in D Major, Opus 137, No. 1 of Schubert; the Brahms Sonata in D Minor, Opus 108 and the 'Kreutzer" Sonata of Beethoven. Both regular and student tickets will be available at the door.

AFS Benefit Party In Carmel March 22

The premiere performance of the movie version of "Dr. Zhivago," widely acclaimed novel by Boris Pasternak, will be sponsored by the American Field Service at the Carmel Village Theater on March 22.

This event will include door prizes and champagne punch at intermission.

This year Tais dos Santos from Rio de Janiero, Brazil, is an AFS student at Carmel High School. She lives with the Edwin Miller family and attends Carmel High School with one of the Millers' three daughters, Chelsea, a junior.

Two Carmel High School students have been selected to enter national competition for placement in the AFS Americans Abroad program which places chosen teenagers with families in 60 nations.

Gordon Clemens, president of the Carmel chapter of American Field Service, announces that the local chapter is one-third of the way towards earning the $1,500 necessary to participate in this two-way AFS program.

Mrs. Robert Newton and Mrs. Martin Forester are being assisted by Mrs. Ted Durein, Mrs. Frederick Duhring, Mrs. Conrad Olsen, Mrs. Richard Sippel, Mrs. Gordon Clemens, and Dr. William Fryback in presenting the premiere party. Tickets, $5.00 each, are tax deductible.

Lloyd Names Aides For Red Cross Drive

Chairman Francis P. (Skip) Lloyd has named his aides for the Red Cross membership and fund drive which starts March 1.

Dividing the area into sectors, Lloyd announces the following chairmen — Carmel residential, Malcolm Steel, a retired engineer; business area, Harold Reliford, realtor; hotels and motels, Bud Allen, manager of Pine Inn; Carmel Valley business, Kiwanis Club; Lower Valley and Rancho business, John Williams, accountant; Pebble Beach business, Knute Mathison, druggist; Pebble Beach residential, Mrs. Donald Schma; Lower Valley residential, Mrs. Charles Dawson; Rancho Rio Vista, Mrs. James Heisinger; Carmel Highlands, Mrs. Hal Boyd; Carmel Meadows, Mrs. F. D. Tellwright; Big Sur, Ted Bergquist; Carmel Hacienda, Miss Marjorie Pittman; Del Monte Lodge, Bob Rissell, assistant manager.

Volunteers are yet to be named for chairmanships in Carmel Valley Manor, Upper Carmel Valley residential and Carmel Knolls.

Opera Workshop To Give U.S.O. Concert

The Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop, under the direction of Nancy Ness Bowman, with Camille Olaeta at the piano, will present an evening of music at the Monterey U.S.O. on Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The program is open to the public without charge.

The program, according to Mrs. Bowman, will include excerpts from several well known operas such as the "Alleiuja Chorus" from Cavalleria Rusticana, the stirring Toreador song from Carmen by Bizet and the plaintive arias from Puccini's Madame Butterfly. In a lighter vein will be included a number of solos from several Broadway musical shows.

FASCINATING GRECIAN FOODS

Greek cuisine is sheer delight in its use of native foods which can be duplicated here at home. On March 3, the Explorerama film "Magnificent Greece" will be shown. Why not start a Gourmet Travel Supper Group with four couples? Last time we suggested a Pre-Cinema French Supper and now we're planning a Greek Film Party quickly prepared and served but with authenticity of taste. After Greece will come Switzerland, next Portugal and the finale is New Russia. What an appetizing challenge!

So now to streamlined Grecian dishes. In Greece nothing could be more inviting than mountains of olives, tomatoes, luscious lemons, watermelons, grapes, and especially lamb spiced with the same herbs known to us in California. . .oregano, cumin basil, thyme, marjoram and mint.

We're giving a choice of delicious Moussaka (Baked Eggplant and Lamb) or Pastistio (Greek Macaroni Pie) and Astakos Vrastos (Lobster Tails in Dill Sauce). For dessert we suggest buying the delicate Baklava with its many layers of tissue-thin pastry filled with honey and nuts. Serve also a variety of grapes with light wine and coffee.

A Greek Proverb Says," He Who Is Too Lazy To Knead The Bread Must Sift the Flour For Five Days"—But Here Is A Ready Made Greek Supper.

MOUSSAKA
(Baked Lamb and Eggplant)
(Serves 8)

Two eggplants, (large) or 4 medium, pared and cut into ½ inch slices; 1 cup olive oil; 4 medium potatoes, pared and cut into ¼ inch slices; 4 tbsps. olive oil; 2 medium onions, chopped; 2 lbs. ground best beef; 2 (8 oz. each) cans tomato sauce; salt, pepper; 4 eggs; ½ cup grated Parmesan cheese.

Sprinkle eggplant slices with salt. Let stand one hour. Drain and rinse with cold water. Heat 4 tbsps. olive (or vegetable) oil in large heavy skillet. Add eggplant then gently cook over medium heat, turning once and adding additional oil as needed, until lightly browned on both sides. Remove slices carefully with wide spatula and drain on absorbent paper. Add potatoes to skillet, adding oil, if needed, but go lightly. Cook, turning once, until partly tender.

Meanwhile heat 2 tbsps. oil in another skillet. Add onions and saute, stir often until just tender. Add meat and brown well. Stir in tomato sauce and salt and pepper to taste.

Grease lightly an 8x8x2 inch baking dish. Arrange alternate layers of eggplant, meat and potatoes in dish. Bake in 350 F. oven until potatoes are tender but not soft (about 30 minutes). Beat eggs well. Stir in cheese and pour over casserole. Bake until bubbly brown on top—but do not overcook and allow to dry out.

With this satisfying dish you might have a classic Greek Salad of broken crisp romaine and the unique Feta cheese with a dressing of olive oil, red wine vinegar, cracked black pepper, chervil, shredded parsley and Greek olives for garnish.

PASTISTIO
(Greek Macaroni Pie)
(Serves 8)

Three tbsps. butter; 2 medium onions, chopped; 2½ lbs. best ground lamb or beef; 1½ cups dry white wine; 1 tsp. seasoned salt; 1 lb. macaroni; ¼ cup butter; 1 cup grated fresh or packaged Parmesan cheese; 6 eggs, beaten; ½ lb. phyllo (Greek pastry sheets) or equivalent in packaged American pastry sticks; 1 tbsp. melted butter; mixed herbs.

Melt butter in skillet and add onions, cooking until tender. Add meat and seasoned salt. Cover and simmer with wine about 20 minutes. Cook macaroni in boiling salted water until just tender. Rinse in cool water and drain. Toss with ¼ cup melted butter. Add cheese and beaten eggs; pour over macaroni, tossing until mixed.

Line greased baking dish with phyllo or pastry rolled out thin, folding so it fits bottom of dish. Cover with layers of half macaroni, all the meat, then remainder of macaroni. Sprinkle herbs between layers. Top with pastry, brushing with melted butter. Sprinkle with a little water just before baking in 375 F. oven until pastry is browned and mixture bubbles around edges, about 30 minutes.

You can prepare this in the morning, go to work, shopping or lunch, take a siesta and still have time to get everything ready for supper. Only reheating of the main dish is necessary for pre-cinema or after theatre enjoyment.

ASTAKOS VRASTOS
(Lobster Tails in Dill Sauce)
(Serves 8)

Plunge 4 pkgs. frozen lobster tails into boiling salted water. Cook 8 minutes. Drain and cool, then remove meat from shells, splitting tails lengthwise. Melt butter in large saucepan; blend 2 tbps. flour until smooth. Add 1 cup dry white wine, 1 cup of water, 4 tsps. chicken broth, 1 tsp. dill weed, 2 tsps. onion powder and ¼ tsp. garlic powder. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens gently. Add lobster tails, turn down heat to lowest setting and let stand about 8 minutes. Serve in lobster-tail shells, garnish with watercress and lemon slices. Early in the day, lobster tails may be cooked, split and refrigerated until ready to prepare sauce which is not made in advance for it will separate.

"Kali Orexi"—or as one would say universally, Bon Appetit!

REX HARRISON ON LOCATION

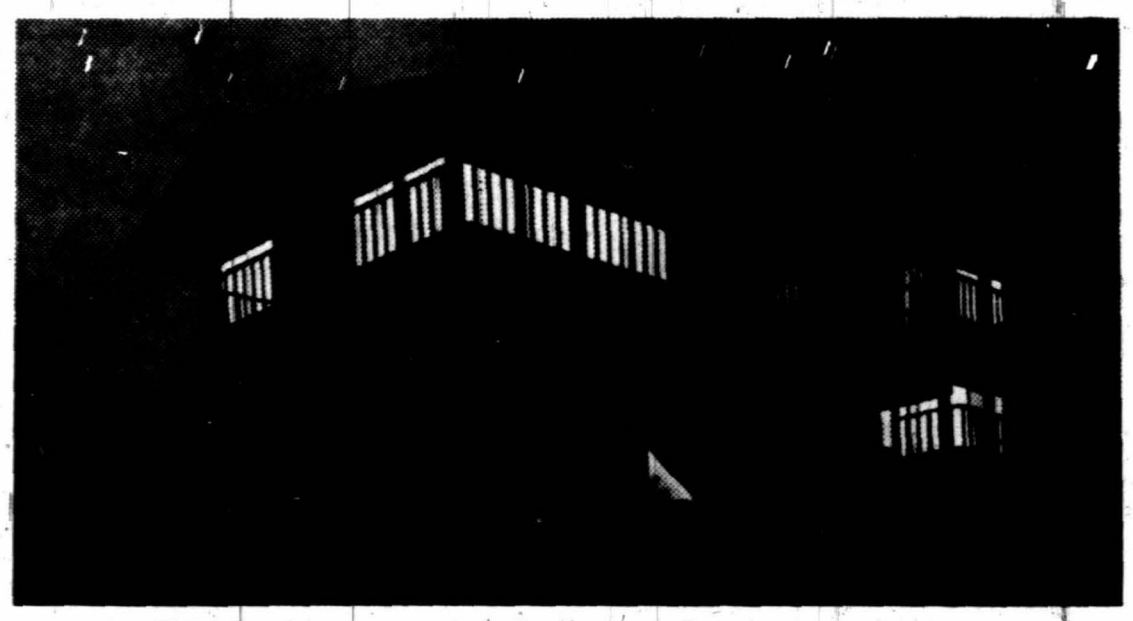
Sequences for the movie adaptation of the Dr. Dolittle stories for children were filmed on the Doud Ranch south of Carmel this month. Here for the four-day filming was Rex Harrison who has the leading role in the picture. The area seen above was chosen for its resemblance to the coastline of England.

Camp Fire Girls Annual Mint Sale

The Camp Fire Girls of the Monterey Bay area ask their friends and neighbors in Carmel to help support their annual mint sale.

The sale, which began February 3, gains excitement and enthusiasm as the girls strive to sell 40 boxes each, which makes them eligible for a theatre party to be held March 11 at Carmel's Village Theater.

After the movie awards will be made. An engraved gavel will be given to the top selling Blue Bird group and the top selling Camp Fire Girls group. The two top selling girls in each group will receive the Candy Sale Honor Award Certificate. Orders for mints may be placed by calling 624-1766.



Lighting costs less today than it did in '63, because PG&E rates are lower.

While almost everything else in your cost of living has gone up in the last four years, there have been five reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates.

You're probably using more energy now because you've added new, improved lighting and a few new appliances since '63. So your PG&E bill may be higher. But lower rates keep PG&E energy the biggest bargain in your family budget.

NAMED STATE SHOW JUDGES

Two Carmel artists will be on the jury for the California 37th Statewide Annual Art Exhibition. They are Mildred D. Schmidtman, and James Peter Cost, both nationally known, and both having homes and studios in the Yankee Point area overlooking the ocean.

Mildred Schmidtman who is famous for her Northwest Indian portraits, and a former art teacher from Seattle, has exhibited nationally, as well as in Canada and Mexico, having lived in Oaxaca for a time. Her paintings hang in a number of eastern collections as well as in the western states. She was made a blood sister of the Yakima and Nez Perce tribes at a ceremony with Indians from all over the Northwest, U. S. and Canada attending, for her historical paintings and portraits. She is an exceptional watercolorist, and her flower studies and marines have taken many prizes, as well as her oils. She has wor a number of awards since coming to California, and took one of the three top prizes in last year's "statewide" for her portrait, "Louisiana Boy". Her Indian paintings have had a continuous one-man show in the Nisqually Museum in the Northwest since 1941. She is a member of the Carmel Art Association, the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association and the Santa Cruz Art League.

PETER COST

Peter Cost is well known to Peninsula residents, coming here to make his home after teaching in Los Angeles schools for 14 years. The marines that grace his seascape studio on Dolores Street, have found their way into many local as well as eastern spots. With his charming wife and daughter, Shelley, they have recently purchased a home and have built a new studio attached to it. Cost holds a bachelor of arts degree from the University of California and a master of arts degree from the University of Southern California.

Wilfrid Provan of Palo Alto, noted watercolorist, will be the third juror.

An exhibition of paintings by Louise Cardeiro Boyer will be on display in the Tennant Memorial Auditorium of Canterbury Woods ih Pacific Grove beginning on Sunday. This group of work in oils and acryllics has been chosen for hanging by the artist because they are related in their directions, having grown out of listening to music or studying natural forms. Mrs. Boyer has exhibited on the East and West Coasts of the United States, in Mexico, Guatemala, Ecuador, and in Munich, Germany. Some of these paintings were done in Europe. Her most recent exhibition was in the Fine Arts Department of New Mexico State University in Las Cruces.

Sculptor-painter Eve Tartar, beginning March 4, will have a one-man show of her famed constructions in the de Saisset Art Gallery at the University of Santa Clara. The exhibit will continue through March 26.

A tri-college art show, featuring works by members of the art faculties of Monterey Peninsula College, Hartnell College and Cabrillo College, will open March 3 at the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art in Carmel.

First of its kind, the show, currently hanging at Hartnell College in Salinas, will remain in Carmel until March 30, then go to Cabrillo College in Aptos for the month of April.

Featured are some 40 pieces—paintings, sculpture, drawings, ceramics, photography—with a maximum of three pieces from each instructor.

MPC is represented by Joseph Hysong, Robert Nelson, Alex Gonzales, Richard Bibler, Chester Smith and Joe Ataide. Hartnell exhibitors are Leon Amyx, Hal Bohn, Joseph Bragdon, Robert Butterbaugh and Andrea Spark, who also teaches evenings at MPC. Cabrillo exhibitors are James Conlin, David McGuire, Howard Ikemoto, Holt Murry and Donald Thompson.

A reception for the three exhibiting art faculties, the museum's membership and guests will open the show.

Carmel's newest art gallery, opened in the Del Dono Court by Gray Livingston, is featuring the work of a local artist Jesse Corsaut, as well as European painters.

At the Zantman Galleries is a one-man show of the work of Bennett Bradbury, a marine artist, also paintings by realists Robert Clark, Raymond Bayless, Richard Robertson, Robert Rishell, Hal Blake and Frank Dorn and impressionists Rosemary Miner, Ned Pankin, S. C. Yuan, Jacques Voyet, Harriet Thorpe and others. Daily hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

CARMEL MUSEUM OF ART

Sale of the former Wells Fargo Bank building to the Carmel Museum of Art, Inc. was arranged by Robert E. Ross & Co.

Ross states, "The idea of having a museum of this nature in Carmel was first conceived last summer. Our office began negotiating with the San Francisco office of Wells Fargo Bank at that time. The plan was outlined to the officers of the bank and their response was most gratfying. They have been most enthusiastic and helpful in bringing the plan to its present place.

"We feel, as does the bank, that this museum will be a wonderful asset to the entire Peninsula and when it is completed we hope that the entire area will become acquainted with the project and consider it as their own."

What's Going on Here?

by B. ROWE

THE CARMEL FOUNDATION
Town House

On March 2, a class in music appreciation will be held in the Helen Field Room. Fred Schaad and Anne Welchner will conduct this class—time 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

Also on March 2, from 2 to 4 p.m., Mrs. Olive Walker will conduct a knitting class in the alcove of the main building.

Tours—Reservations are being received for the tour to Sacramento on March 14 and 15. There will be a tour of the Capitol and a visit to the State Legislature in session on the afternoon of the first day. Stay overnight at the El Dorado Hotel. Next day, a visit to Sutter's Fort, then return to Carmel in the afternoon.

HACIENDA CARMEL

Last week, Douglas H. Sprague, director in charge of the newly organized Monterey Peninsula Y.M.C.A. appeared, accompanied by several youthful Y.M.C.A. members, at Casa Fiesta and told about the objectives and accomplishments of this 123-year-old, international organization in the youth development field. Although most Hacienda Carmel residents are retired, interest in the development and use of youthful energy for the best interests of young folk is quite keen.

The Hacienda Carmel ladies' annual shuffleboard tournament advanced one more step toward its conclusion when Mrs. Celeste Hunter defeated Mrs. Claire Wright by winning two out of three games in the semifinals. The final match for the championship will be played by Mrs. Hunter and Miss Midge Pittman.

CARMEL VALLEY MANOR

The trip to Point Lobos Reserve was changed to the morning of February 23. This will be led by John Dowdakin, regional forester of the Division of Forestry, State Department of Conservation. Because of a change in Mr. Dowdakin's schedule, the date was moved back one week.

FOREST HILL MANOR

Mrs. Bess Ward of Forest Hill Manor announces an evening of music to be given by Mrs. Jean Canada and Robert Forbes on March 9 in the Lounge. Mrs. Canada has selected a program of religious numbers, classic and modern songs, including some from the picture "The Sound of Music".

PINPOINT PROFILES
Jean Vincent

Coming from the San Joaquin Valley every summer to the cool clear climate of Carmel was sheer joy, according to Jean Vincent, resident of Hacienda Carmel. In her lovely apartment there we talked with Jean about her former life as a high school teacher of music. She was born in Eastern Washington at "a wide spot in the road," as she describes it. This part of the country is commonly known as "the Big Bend Country".

After attending Washington State University at Pullman, she received a fellowship to the University of Southern California where she worked for, and received her master's degree in music education. And it was there, as a supervisor of student teachers, she met her husband, Walter. He wasn't studying music — but his sister was.

After a formal introduction, he did show quite an interest in music, especially in the attractive young supervisor. They were married in Los Angeles and continued to live there for a number of years, going to Fresno, Walter's birthplace, later on.

Following in the steps of his father and brother, Walter Vincent continued to farm his land laid out in acres of wine grapes and raisins —and still does.

He is second vice president of the largest wine cooperative in the country. It is the Allied Grape Growers Association. This cooperative owns seven wineries and a wine ship—The Angelo Petri—so named after the famous vineyardist by the same name.

This unique ship is equipped with several stainless steel vats and in them wine is shipped out of the Port of Stockton to Houston, Texas, thence to a bottling plant in New Jersey.

Before her marriage Jean taught in several of the secondary schools in Los Angeles, including University High and Franklin High. In the latter she was chairman of a department, conductor of an a cappella choir of high school students, besides her regular teaching assignments.

She relates, how during the depression, a series of youth concerts was given by the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra. This was a rare opportunity since tickets were made available to the music students for the small sum of 10 cents each. Jean gave each class a pep talk, trying to impress them with the importance this unusual opportunity afforded. She claims she did get some response and a goodly number did attend—but she really had to talk hard and long to convince them to go.

She is a member of the national music fraternity, Mu Phi Epsilon, also belongs to the Monterey Peninsula branch of the American Association of University Women. There are times when she is called upon to act as accompanist for soloists who come to give concerts at Hacienda Carmel—so she has found her little niche for service.

FREE MPC CONCERT

The Maniera Trio, a chamber music group which makes its headquarters at Ohio State University, where all are faculty members, will appear in concert at Monterey Peninsula College tomorrow.

The concert, to start at 8:30 p.m. in the MPC Music Hall, is free to the public. No tickets will be required for admission.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him," wrote the apostle John.

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of Sunday's Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches, and will include the loved story of Jesus' early youth when he responded to his anxious mother, "How is it that ye sought me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Father's business?"

The lesson will close with the statement from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy: "Glory be to God, and peace to the struggling hearts! Christ hath rolled away the stone from the door of human hope and faith, and through the revelation and demonstration of life in God, hath elevated them to possible at-one-ment with the spiritual idea of man and his divine Principle, Love."

CREATIVE ARTS OF BIG SUR

A new concept in the world of galleries and studios has recently been opened in Carmel by Susan Santos, above. This interesting shop is Creative Arts of Big Sur and features the talents of the many artists and craftsmen living in the Carmel, Carmel Valley and Big Sur areas.

New shops are constantly opening here but it is an occasion when one offers works of local artists in an atmosphere that is both informal and conducive to the meeting and discussing of the creations between the artisan and the client. This was the main theme out of which grew the realization of the new shop. Without the enthusiasm of the local artists and their actual role as architects of this project, the shop itself would be an unrealized dream.

An equally talented young artist, Susan Santos, who is the owner of the store, felt that many people would be interested in truly original but unusual artistic creations produced by local artistans. Thus Creative Arts of Big Sur offers an unlimited selection of original jewelry, paintings, sculpture, carving, pottery and dresses.

Susan's background includes being the co-owner of Galeria de Arte in Guadalajara, Mexico, manager of the Dreyer Galleries in Houston, Texas, and the creator of La Cantina Gallery in Sausalito.

Some of the local artists who have their work displayed in Creative Arts of Big Sur are Jay Chaffin, Gary Cartwright and Rich Frye of Carmel; Karl Lee, Jean Colon, Peter Monk, Angele Jimenes, Irima Love and John Horler of Big Sur; Harry Conley of Carmel Valley.

The shop is situated upstairs in the Vandervort Court at San Carlos and Seventh streets.

RUMMAGE SALE TO AID HANDICAPPED

The Cypress Nite Stand of the Monterey Peninsula will hold a rummage and bake sale this Saturday at the Carmel American Legion Hall. Doors will open at 9 a.m. and be open all day.

The sale is being held by the group to help get money for the club's handicapped student fund, and will include all kinds of food, clothing, shoes and jewelry.

The Complete Gardener

. . . a regular diet of information having to do with plants

There comes a time in the life of every home gardener when he must stand up and be judged by his plants. When your Day of Judgment arrives you may be classed as a good provider, or one who neglects the feeding routine. Beyond that, you might even be over-indulgent. . . an over-feeder. The same holds true with watering, pruning and spraying. Too little and too late. . . or too much and too often. This would be a good time to look at your feeding habits.

AWAKEN THEM GENTLY

If you are a conscientious gardener you will not have fed chemical nitrogen to anything except your grass, this year. You will awaken your sleeping plants gently with slow-acting organics. Your roses will have some blood or cottonseed meal to subsist upon until the first bloom buds appear. Only then will you start using a complete rose food. Your camellias will have a light layer of cottonseed meal washed into their root systems. No chemical acid food will be used until the bloom is off and new growth appears. Planting tablets may be used safely at any time because nutrient is released only when the plant is prepared to take it.

Furthermore, you will feed your plants lesser amounts, oftener, and this applies particularly to the heavy eaters. Make a quick list of the plants you have which seem to grow faster than the others each year. Roses, fuchsias, begonias, bedding plants. These must not be neglected. Nor should you burn them up with heavy portions. Common sense will help you decide.

LATE-WINTER REMINDERS

There are certain things we must do before February leaves us behind and the vigorous growing season arrives. Check over the tools; clean and sharpen them. Continue to plant gladiolus bulbs for a succession of summer bloom. Feed the lawns reguarly to keep the grass ahead of the weeds. Clean up the trash and spray for earwigs. Finish the bare-root plantings of ornamental and fruit trees, berry vines and bushes, artichokes, asparagus and rhubarb.

Tear down the old compost piles and make use of this rich humus. Add superferrite iron to the soil around plants that have a tendency toward pale foliage. Grapes should be pruned and bush-berries wrapped on their wires. Apply piles of metaldahyde bait about the premises to reduce the snail and slug population. Paint the fences and repair the trellises before the plants start growing. Stir agricultural lime in the soil around lilacs. Check all shrubs and trees for dead wood and remove it.

Create an atmosphere of freshness throughout your property. Spring is less than a month away.

Pianist Leon Fleisher Proved To Be Fiery Symphony Soloist

by John Upton

Pianist Leon Fleisher delighted a capacity audience at Sunset Center auditorium on February 14, when he proved to be one of the most fiery guest soloists ever to appear with the Monterey County Symphony. Surprisingly enough, Fleisher, who is perhaps best known for his recordings of the five Beethoven Piano Concerti with the Cleveland Orchestra, earned his ovation with what is essentially a tour de force and a curiosity: the Ravel Concerto for the Left Hand.

It is a tour de force in the same sense as Humoresque played on the tuba: one is surprised not by its beauty, but by the fact that it can be done at all. Ravel was commissioned by a multilated concert pianist to write the work so that he might continue his career. It is undeniably spectacular and obviously difficult, and was probably a great solace to its original performer in Vienna in 1931; but it is hard to believe that the composer considered it an important contribution to keyboard writing.

As a curiosity, it takes us back to the avant-garde composers of the first decades of our country, who were fascinated by the new "ragtime" music without really understanding it. In their attempt to reproduce the free, swinging quality of early jazz, they resorted to a few set devices such as reiterated syncopation and violent, jerky blasts in unexpected places, such as are heard in the "jazz section" of Ravel's concerto. It didn't swing then and it doesn't now.

Fleisher, however, is such an agile performer and brings such impeccable taste to the keyboard that he made the concerto sparkle with imagination and excitement. We may have forgotten it half an hour later, but when he was seated at the controls we relished every note.

In response to unrelenting applause, and after several curtain calls, the soloist launched into one of his favorite encores: the hauntingly lovely second movement from Schubert's Sonata in A Major. This was clearly a case of true love, full of warmth and tenderness and restraint. We were charmed, and wished there had been more.

Conductor John Gosling, with a nice sense of contrast, gave us Sir Edward Elgar's Serenade for Strings, with its reflective and rather sweet echoes of Brahms and Wagner and Tschaikowsky. The son of a church organist, Elgar began his career as a professional musician at the age of 22, when he took a job as bandmaster of a county lunatic asylum. From that day on he was so busy conducting and composing that he had little time for formal musical training, and as a result his style is eclectic and rather simple. The Serenade is not a memorable piece of work—partly, I suppose, because we hear much the same thing in today's "moving music"—but Mr. Gosling's thoughtful reading made us feel its dignity and the richness of Elgar's orchestration.

Ottorino Respighi's Pines of Rome, with which the orchestra ended last Tuesday's concert, is one of those pieces of program music that is as much fun to watch as to hear. There are so many things going on—skipping flutes, off-stage trumpet passages (played masterfully by David Hawley), ratchets, raspberries in the brass section, clumping basses, bird songs (a phonograph record of the voice of the nightingale was written as part of the original score)—that the musicians (a lazy lot) seem for the first time to be earning their keep. This is not easy music, and Mr. Gosling and his cohort are to be commended for turning it out in such a spirited and workmanlike way.

All in all, rather a mixed bag as concerts go. The Elgar was a minor work by a minor composer; the Respighi was a major work by a minor composer; and the Ravel, to my mind, was an inconsequential work by a great composer. Yet, in a way, there is evidence of some clear thinking here; Carmel audiences are by nature conservative, and if the choice were left to us we might hear nothing but Bach and Haydn and Mozart. With the help of John Gosling and the Monterey County Symphony Association, one of these days we may work our way up to Shostakovich.

Woman's Club Talk By Garden Authority

The approach of Spring will be heralded at the meeting of the garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday at 2 p.m., when James W. Wilson, second vice president of the Men's Garden Clubs of America will speak of the subject, "New and Different Annuals." His talk will be illustrated by slides.

Wilson is a native of Vicksburg, Mississippi, and a graduate of the University of Missouri, specializing in agriculture. Now a resident of Sunnyvale where he has lived since 1961, he has been active in civic affairs; is a director of the California Roadside Council and is a past president of the Men's Garden Club of Santa Clara County.

In 1965, Wilson attended the White House Conference on Natural Beauty, and last year was invited to attend the Governor's Conference on California Beauty. He is also a member of the Garden Writers Association of America.

Mrs. D. MacMillan Kerr, chairman of the garden section, will preside at the meeting and will introduce the guest speaker.

MPC MAN AND WOMAN OF THE YEAR

Sterling Phillips of Carmel (left) and Charlotte Cleis of Salinas have been named Bank of America "Man and Woman of the Year" at Monterey Peninsula College. They'll compete in semi-finals against winners from nine other colleges in "Area Six" on February 28, and if successful, could go on to take the title of "California Junior College Man and Woman of the Year" later in the spring. The state title carries with it a $1,000 award.

SPANISH PARTRIDGES RELEASED IN COUNTY

The State Department of Fish and Game will release 343 Spanish red-legged partridges in Monterey County during February. These exotic game birds are descendants of 15 birds trapped in southeastern Spain and shipped to the department in 1958 for breeding in captivity.

RADIO PROGRAMS

"What is the Basics of Brotherhood?" is the title of this Sunday's regular Christian Science radio program, "The Bible Speaks to You," and will be heard at 8:45 a.m. over station KDON and station KGO at 7:30 a.m. The ideal that all men possess qualities that are both lovable and honest will be proved to be a present-day fact.

From A Librarian's Notebook

By Ruth Galvin Thornburg, City Librarian

We have a new copy of an important annual in our reference department which all young people should consult IF they are planning to look for work during summer vacation. The book is called SUMMER JOBS FOR 1967, THE SUMMER EMPLOYMENT DIRECTORY. The arrangement is geographical by state. It is a small book so the seeker may state-hop with ease and then start writing letters of application.

It does a person good, makes you feel good, even to look at the pictures in Mahalia Jackson's new book MOVIN' ON UP. She has a look of bubbling spiritual joy which is happifying. Her book has the same spirit. Read it.

Dr. Sam Shepard has done a book recounting his 12-year fight for vindication after being accused of the murder of his wife Marilyn. He tells of the crime, of his arrest and trial, and of the years he served in prison. The Supreme Court finally set aside his conviction on the grounds that his trial has been carried on under circumstances which made an unprejudiced trial impossible and thus he had been deprived of his rights. The book jacket says "This moving autobiography is a testament to Dr. Sheppard's endurance, courage, and unflagging faith. It is Sam Sheppard's own story—told with passion and simplicity." I can go along with that! He writes very well and with simplicity. Title of the book is ENDURE AND CONQUER.

It seems unfortunate today that a new idea is often clothed in flamboyant language in order to bring it forcibly to public attention. Book jackets carry on by using large type where none is needed. This is true with the book RADICAL THEOLOGY AND THE DEATH OF GOD. The authors of the book are Thomas Altizer and William Hamilton. Both men are professors of theology and Bible history in large universities. Both men believe that they have helped to raise this issue into clear perspective and to bring it into focus. Both men have a list of published books on theological subjects. Read this book if you wish to learn all you can about the "God is dead" hypothesis. Do not read it if it will make you angry or apprehensive.

The way libraries treat books today, enclosing their jackets under plastic to preserve them with their helpful accounts of what the book is about, also keeping books on open shelves so that the reader may browse a while before borrowing a book, these ways make it hard for anyone to borrow a book he really doesn't want to read. And after all this, if you get one you do not like, no law says you have to finish it.

FORMOSA: A STUDY IN CHINESE HISTORY is by William Goddard who is an authority on China and the Far East. He lived most of his life in Formosa and speaks the Chinese language and for these reasons many avenues of information were open to him which might not be so for other writers. This is not a large book so read it and after that read some of the many other books this library has on China.

SEARCH Project Has Photo-Copier Service

Photo-copying equipment and a microfilm reader-printer now are in use under the Monterey Bay Area Information Service Project, a federally financed program with the local title of SEARCH, to increase reference services for Carmel's Harrison Memorial Library.

The photo-copying equipment is available only to reproduce information, contained in the library's reference materials, for persons who need copies of specific data not readily obtainable elsewhere. The equipment can reproduce maps, diagrams, blueprints, illustrations, pages in books, and magazine articles.

TWINS AT WELL BABY CLINIC

Twins Jonathan and Donald McGuckin are seen above with their mother, Mrs. Lee McGuckin, when she took them, last week, for the first time to the well baby clinic conducted each month at the Carmel Red Cross chapter house by a pediatrician, Dr. Legrand Woolley, and a public health nurse, Margery Close. The boys are nine weeks old today. They have two brothers, Barrian, five, and Jarrett, four, also two sisters, Julie, eight and Janice six. Their father, a paid engineer with the Carmel Fire Department, is in charge of the department's fire prevention program.

Mrs. Everett Bibb Was DAR Speaker

At the luncheon meeting of the Commodore Sloat Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club on February 21, Mrs. Everett Bibb reviewed Jonathan Daniel's bestseller, "The Time Between Wars."

Mrs. Bibb has a degree in library science from the University of California and she is now holding a state job. Her husband, Colonel Bibb, was stationed at Fort Ord before his retirement from the Army. Mrs. Bibb is active with the Monterey branch of American Association of University Women and served as president of this group. The Bibbs have two daughters and two grandchildren. One daughter is at present a member of the Peace Corps in Afghanistan.

Mrs. Frank E. La Cauza, assistant secretary of the California chapters of the national society of the Daughters of the American Revolution and member of the Commodore Sloat Chapter executive board, was in charge of arrangements for the luncheon to which members brought guests.

REPORTS FROM RLS

By Chandler Meloy

SPRING HAS SPRUNG

From the middle of February through May, the word at Stevenson is "activity". For the understatement of the week, I submit:

Leadership Conference: Some 150 delegates spent three days this past weekend discussing student leadership problems at a conference sponsored by the student council of RLS. Twenty major independent schools, including Santa Catalina and York from this area, were represented in the state-wide program. Delegates had much praise for the emphasis on detail, for the committee organization, and for campus receptions. While most of the delegates were housed on campus, a few stayed with parents or friends of the school. Bunks and mattresses were loaned by the Army at Fort Ord, sheets from a local laundry, some blankets from Del Monte Lodge and from both boys and parents. The main order of business turned out to be the formation of a permanent student organization of independent schools in California. (Details next week).

In praising the students and organizer Will Haas, Robert U. Ricklefs also commended the kitchen staff under Roger Reed and members of the RLS staff for their help in making the weekend a success. In special praise of Student Body President Larry Kuechler, Ricklefs said that this program was an outstanding example of what is meant by student leadership; and the entire state is proud of the record set at RLS.

Basketball: The regular season ended this year with Coach Dick Zury taking a swim, fully clothed, to celebrate the one-point win over Mora High on Monday. The varsity team, under Captain Pete Stremmel, won 9 and lost 8 for their best record in the history of RLS. They also took third in the C.A.A. league for their highest standing, and saw John Cann voted all-league first team for his great scoring efforts this year. John sank 324 points in 17 games to lead the league. Others giving a great boost to the team were Mike Greene with 162 points, Pat Rauber with 121, and Pete Schreiter who "covered" the backboards. Reserves George Winters and Eric Paulsen, plus Steve Covell, also added to the great season. (Frosh-Soph results next week). The varsity enters the C.A.A. Classic tonight in a three-day tournament in Civic Auditorium in Santa Cruz. Kirk Barr and the cheerleaders have organized a "wing-ding" rooting section of 90 boys (the limit), with another 50 boys going along as "Loud Observers."

Math Club: Admiral Hal Pullen and Colonel Paul Hamilton, co-sponsors, took the Math Club on a field trip this afternoon to the McCormick-Selph Engineering Company in Hollister. This plant is involved in the development of space "hardware." As Club President Taylor Grant says: "Our generation has shown great interest in the application of math in applied science, such as space and ESP computors, so this field trip is most welcome." Among the 18 boys attending are Vice President Claude Wynn and Secretary Jim Merritt.

Speech: Eight speakers will represent Stevenson at the Stanford Invitational this weekend as 75 schools from the Western United States meet for a two-day contest. Terry Talbot and Bob Howard, plus Bill Atkins and Smith Dungan, will debate (Incidentally, these four just gave a demonstration debate at Pacific Grove High before six civics classes last Tuesday). Individual stars will include Joe Arsenio, Jim Russell, Lonnie Foy and Joel Harris.

History Conference: Mr. Ricklefs, who is president of the C.A.I.S., will host the association's history seminar this weekend at Asilomar. Chairman of the history department, Admiral Hugh Goodwin, will head the RLS delegation which includes Academic Dean Frank Keith, Colonel Eugene Houghton, Norman Ellis and Jerry Fenton.

Rev. C. E. Wilson:—"Coach" will perform one of those delightful ceremonies on Sunday at 11:30 a.m. in the Erdman Chapel as he baptizes the son of an RLS graduate, David Newell Dodge, whom he married in January, 1964, to Linda Kay Parker. The boy will be named after his father. Godparents will include Stephen Henry Dodge, Henry Newell Dodge and Fabienne Collins Kennedy.

Carmel High Places State Semifinalists

Twelve Carmel High School students are semifinalists in the California state scholarship program. They achieved this rating by virtue of the scores they made on the Scholastic Aptitude Test. Deserving commendation for their demonstration of academic ability, according to Arthur S. Marmaduke, executive director of the state scholarship and loan commission, are Mary A. Faulkner, Josephine Bow, Stephen D. Burnett, Lawrence R. Leslie, Barbara E. Coss, Adrianna M. Ricupero, Martha N. Crow, Rosalind H. Thorpe, Ronald C. Harrison, Mickey Y. Miyamoto, Carole P. Kiler, and Diane G. Davis.

The state commission is authorized by the California Legislature to award approximately 2,700 new scholarships this year. Final scholarship awards will be announced in April. Each grant is for tuition and fees only. They range from $300 to $1,500 for attendance at independent colleges; $250 at the University of California: $150 at State colleges.

Carmel Students On Dean's List At MPC

On the Fall, 1966, Dean's List at Monterey Peninsula College two of the eight students who won "highest honors," with 4.0 (straight A) grade point averages, were from Carmel. They were Eunice Feekes and Walter Pilot.

Among the students who won "high honors," with grade point averages of from 3.5 to 3.99, were Suzanne Deatley, Allan Frey, James Holt, Lynden Mahrt, John Morrice, Gustel Orourke, Sterling Phillips and Jo Marie Wise all from Carmel; Lisa Buchenroth and Jeanette Hogan of Carmel Valley; and Mary Martin from Pebble Beach.

Students earning "honors," with grade point averages ranging from 3.0 to 3.49, from Carmel were Charles Baltz, Gary Bradburn, Arthur Braudrick, Polly Campbell, Marilyn Cole, Melinda Colvin, Forrest Cornwall, Katherine Dalton, Erik DeMarco, Corinne Eaton, Holly Garcia, Donna Hutton, Gordon Maxinoski, Richard Monroe, Harold O'Neille, Rolanda Percival, David Schetter, Deborah Sherrill, Katrin Stoney, James Temple, Kenneth Wiese, Patricia Wilhelm and James Zoellin.

Those with "honors" from Carmel Valley were Helene Bailey, Christi Borregaard, Thomas Brattin, Lieselotte Regan and Joel Sheppard. Susan Hunter, Irene Podolan, Marie Sidone, Sharon Strong and Fatemeh Taba Tabai were on the list from Pebble Beach.

SOROPTIMIST CLUB ESTABLISHES SCHOLARSHIP

The Soroptimist Club of the Monterey Peninsula has establish a $1,000 fund for Monterey Peninsula College. Mrs. Charles Pearson, chairman of the committee which recommended to the club the establishment of the fund, expressed pleasure over "the club's ability to help college students in this way."

The fund, to be allocated at the discretion of the Monterey Peninsula College financial aids officer, is for matching funds for Economic Opportunity Act grants to be awarded to "promising students whose family income is such that financial assistance is essential."

Mayor Speaker At Carmel Hi-12 Club

Checkered cherry pie, in honor of Washington's Birthday week, was served at the Carmel High 12 Club luncheon meeting on Monday. A general accomplishment report of the Wolcott Foundation's college scholarship fund was reviewed by President Bill Williams. Present membership data was covered by Ralph Thompson, secretary.

Gene Nissen, program chairman, introduced fellow member Steve Grant, Mayor of Carmel, who spoke on his experiences as holder of the city's highest office. Mayor Grant encouraged members to help Carmel by offering their services as advisors in various fields of city services. Carmel's city government is unique as compared to eastern urban centers, the Mayor stressed.

A 16-page booklet," City Government in Carmel by-the-Sea" was distributed, as reference material, to all persons present.

Persons with questions about income tax returns may obtain answers at the Monterey Peninsula U.S.O., Webster and El Estero streets, Monterey, on Mondays, according to Joseph M. Cullen, District Director of Internal Revenue for Northern California.

OBITUARIES

CATHERINE SEIDENECK

Catherine Comstock Seideneck, a noted artist and a much loved and respected member of the community since 1920, died on February 13 after a long period of failing health. With her husband, George Seideneck, who survives her, she was a founding member of the Carmel Art Association and took an active part in the development of other aspects of the cultural life in Carmel. She was born in Evanston, Illinois, on November 1, 1885.

Catherine Seideneck's interest in the arts began when she was very young. She spent a year and a half during her girlhood in the Rycroft Shops of Albert Hubbard working and studying decorative art under skilled foreign craftsmen. Later her work won many awards and honors in exhibitions throughout the country.

In 1915, after her family had moved to California, Catherine Seideneck both studied and taught in the California School of Arts and Crafts and worked in various classes at the University of California. During this period she helped to organize and supervise a craft guild in Santa Rosa called The Companeros.

She aso taught jewelry crafts and leather sculpture in the summer school programs of the Arts and Crafts Club of Carmel.

In January of 1920, she was married to another artist, George Seideneck whom she had met here. For the next several years, the couple toured Europe sketching and studying. During this period, Catherine Seideneck found new expression for her artistic talents in painting.

Her most striking contributions in this field were her oil washes of Carmel Valley and the coast. A one-man show of her work was featured by the Carmel Art Association in 1948.

Last July she shared with her husband one of the outstanding exhibitions presented by the Monterey Peninsula Museum of Art Association.

George and Catherine Seideneck moved to Carmel Valley in the 1930s and, mostly with their own hands, built a uniquely lovely house embodying much cherished material they had collected in Mexico and throughout California. This home has been a gathering place for their many friends ever since.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Seideneck leaves three brothers, Dr. John Adam Comstock of Del Mar, George Franklin Comstock of Mill Valley and Judge James Hilliard Comstock of Santa Rosa, retired judge of the Superior Court of Sonoma county; and many nieces and nephews.

She was the sister of the late Hugh and Hurd Comstock, and Mrs. Cornelia Comstock Matthews, all of Carmel.

Private family services were held last week in the Mission Mortuary, followed by inurnment in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Catherine Seideneck may do so to the newly incorporated Carmel Museum of Art to be housed in the remodeled former Wells Fargo Bank building on Dolores Street.

NINA MINER

Mrs. Nina Melville Miner, a resident of Pacific Grove and Carmel since 1950, died last Tuesday in her home at Guadalupe Street and Seventh Avenue. She had been in failing health for some time.

Mrs. Miner was born on March 20, 1895, in New York City and was the daughter of a well known figure in the American theatrical world, Emilie Melville. She was a gifted pianist and started a concert career in her youth but was forced to give it up when she suffered a broken finger. She then became an audition accompanist for Leopold Stokowski and other noted musicians.

For many years Mrs. Miner was active in the theatre on the East Coast, touring with such stars as Minnie Maddern Fiske. Her marriage to the late Gould T. Miner took place in Princeton, New Jersey, where she made her home before coming to California. Mrs. Miner's husband died in 1928.

She leaves three daughters, Miss Margaret T. (Peg) Miner, with whom she made her home in Carmel, Mrs. Robert Wood Coe of Middletown, Rhode Island, and Mrs. Frederick A. Coe of North Easton, Massachusetts, and nine grandchildren.

Private family services were held last week in the Little Chapela-by-the-Sea, with Reverend C. E. Wilson of Robert Louis Stevenson School for Boys officiating. Private inurnment took place in Princeton Cemetery, Princeton, New Jersey. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mrs. Miner may do so to Central Mission Trails Heart Association, P.O. Box 191, Monterey.

FRED AMMERMAN

Frederick W. (Fred) Ammerman died Saturday morning at a local hospital. Although he had been under a doctor's care, his death was unexpected.

Mr. Ammerman was born April 5, 1908 in Dansville, Pennsylvania. For many years he worked for the M. J. Murphy lumber company in Carmel. He was later a taxi driver and had been retired for the past year.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. C. Jonathan Shoemaker; a sister, Mrs. Maurice O. Slone; and a granddaughter, all of Carmel.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in the Dorney and Farlinger Memorial Chapel with Reverend J. Bernhard Bretheim of Saint Philip's Lutheran Church of Carmel officiating. Private inurnment will take place in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea crematory in Pacific Grove.

ISABEL LANG

Mrs. Isabel Lang, who was a resident of Carmel from 1915 until 1932 when she and her husband moved to Palo Alto, died on February 10 in that city. She was a native of New York City where she was born July 4, 1886.

Mrs. Lang is survived by her husband, Dewey G. Lang of Palo Alto, a daughter, Mrs. Gene Ricketts of Carmel and four sons, George B. and Harry W. Turner of Carmel and William P. Turner and Myles Lang of Palo Alto; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held last week in Palo Alto, to be followed by burial in Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno.

Pacific Telephone Asks Rate Increase

Following its earlier announcement of a "desperate need' for improved earnings, Pacific Telephone on February 10 asked the California Public Utilities Commission for permission to increase its rates.

In an aplication filed with the commission, the company proposed increases totaling $158 million in gross annual revenues for telephone service rates. In addition, the company proposed increased charges totaling $23 million annually for telephone directory "Yellow Pages" advertising, which would become effective directory by directory over a two-year period as new directories are issued.

If aproved by the commission, one-party rates for residence customers in Carmel would increase from $4.85 per month to $5.40 per month; and in Carmel Highlands from $5.35 to $5.90. Basic business service would go up from $9.75 per month to $12.65 per month in Carmel and in Carmel Highlands from $10.25 to $13.15.

The company cited its need to expand and improve telephone service in California, the resulting necessity for huge construction expenditures, higher costs and steadily declining earnings as reasons for the requested increase.

New Dean At MPC

Dr. James L. Rhodes, Monterey Peninsula College's dean of instruction since the fall of 1965, has presented his resignation to the Monterey Peninsula College board of trustees. Dr. Rhodes' retirement from the field of education will become effective June 30, and will permit him to enter private business in his home state of Texas.

John R. Blakemore, currently Monterey Peninsula College's dean of student personnel, will replace Dr. Rhodes as dean of instruction. He came to the college in 1965 from Cerritos College, where he was both dean of students and dean of instruction, and has done an "outstanding job" at Monterey Peninsula College, Dr. George Faul, MPC president told trustees.

A graduate of Whittier College, who also holds a master's degree in psychology from the University of the Pacific, Blakemore is currently completing work on a doctorate at the University of Southern California.

PAM AND CLYDE TO WED

Pamela Baldwin and Clyde Klaumann Jr. have set June 24 as the date of their wedding in the Church of the Wayfarer. Both are graduates of Carmel High School. Clyde is a teacher at Carmel Middle School and Pam is assistant director of the Carmel Youth Center.

Following a honeymoon in Hawaii, Pam and Clyde will make their home in Carmel. Pam is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Baldwin of Carmel. Carmel's police chief, Clyde Klaumann Sr., and Mrs. Klaumann are the future bridegroom's parents.

Happy Peace Corps Pair

The former Janet Hibbs and her husband, Jim Anderson, who were married here last August, are having the time of their lives in Jesselton, capital of Sabah on the Island of Borneo. Both Jim and Janet are with the Peace Corps and are enjoying their teaching jobs very much.

The Andersons were trained on the Island of Hawaii and found, to their surprise, that almost everyone on the Island of Borneo speaks English as a second language. They are both teaching English classes bridging the gap between primary and secondary school for pupils who already know some English. They travel to their different schools on foot or by bicycle as the Peace Corps does not provide for private transportation.

Mrs. Walter A. Hibbs, Janet's mother, says that both of them are enthusiastic about the food and that the heat of Borneo hasn't bothered them, as yet. What free time Jim and Janet have is spent playing soccer with the village children.

During their two-year stint in Sabah, Janet and Jim will be given a month's vacation and at that time they plan to visit the rest of Malaysia, including Kuala Lampur and the Malay Peninsula.

Plan April Wedding

Rear Admiral and Mrs. George R. Luker of New York have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann, to Robert Alan Klein of San Francisco.

An April 1 wedding will take place at the home of Ann's grandmother, Mrs. Charles A. Stewart of Carmel Point. Ann, who is now teaching in Mill Valley, is a graduate of Santa Catalina School for Girls and of St. Agnes Academy in Memphis, Tennessee, later she attended the University of Oregon where she was affiliated with Delta Gamma sorority.

Her fiance, the son of Mrs. Harold E. Klein of Niagara Falls and the late Mr. Klein, is a graduate of the University of Syracuse. He later attended the Institute of Foreign Trade in Phoenix, Arizona.

Ann has one brother, Ned, who is serving with the Army in South Korea. Her father is commandant of the Third Naval District in Brooklyn, New York. He and Mrs. Luker will come to Carmel in late March to visit Mrs. Stewart and be here for Ann's wedding.

The young couple will establish their first home in San Francisco.

Engagement Party

The engagement of Kathleen Anne Pollock to Dennis McGinley was announced recently at a supper and dancing party at the Mark Thomas Inn for friends and members of the young couple's families, given by Mr. and Mrs. George Pollock of Rancho Canada, the bride-to-be's parents. The gathering also served as a going away party for the Pollockses' son, George, before he left for service in the Army.

Kathleen is a graduate of Carmel High School and is now attending Santa Clara College and the O'Connor School of Nursing in San Jose. She will complete her nurses' training following her marriage in late August or early September at Carmel Mission Basilica.

Dennis who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry McGinley of Mission Fields, is also a Carmel High School graduate and is now an English major in his junior year at the University of California, Berkeley.

Dennis is the brother of Bob, Elizabeth, and Anne McGinley of Carmel and the grandson of Mrs. Neal McGinley of Van Nuys and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Buckley of Graptenhall, England.

Kathleen is the sister of Rosemarie (Mrs. Randy) Garoutte of San Luis Obispo, Patricia (Mrs. Ferris Burleson) of Carmel Valley, Robert Pollock of Prunedale and George Pollock Jr.

February Bride

The former Maureen Ann Lipp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel A. Lipp of Pebble Beach, became the bride of David Ellicott Kaplansky in a double ring ceremony which took place on February 4 at noon in Saint Mary's By-the-Sea Episcopal Church in Pacific Grove with the Reverend H.H.M. Nicholas officiating.

The bride choose an Empire styled gown of alpaca peau which had a scoop neckline, a chapel length train, and trumpet sleeves trimmed with lace. She carried a bouquet of white orchids.

Mrs. Matthew Little of San Francisco was matron of honor and William Houck of San Pablo served as David's best man.

Ushers were Scott Rudoni of Pacific Grove and Dale Lipp, brother of the bride.

A reception following the service was held at the Monterey Peninsula Country Club and the newlyweds honeymooned at Lake Tahoe.

David, who is the son of Mrs. Earl E. Kaplansky and the late Mr. Kaplansky of Pebble Beach, and his bride will make their new home in San Anselmo.

Visitor From France

A distinguished visitor to the Peninsula weekend before last was Claude Lachaux, inspector of finance in the Ministry of Economic and Financial Affairs for the French government.

His visit here was made possible by the international visitors committee of the World Affairs Council of the Monterey Peninsula. He was the guest of Dr. and Mrs. Theodore Bradley of Carmel during his two-day stay. The Bradleys gave a dinner party for their French guest and took him on a scenic tour of Carmel.

On Repair Ship

Machinery repairman Roger R. Besel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Besel, is helping the U.S. Pacific Fleet Service Force (SERVPAC) celebrate its 25th anniversary this month, while he is serving aboard the repair ship Markab.

Roger, who is a 1964 graduate of Carmel High School, will be out of the service sometime this summer and, as his plans stand now, will attend Monterey Peninsula College. He is interested in police science and will take courses in that subject when he returns.

PEBBLE BEACH

Close to the Lodge, a location that is hard to find these days, this lovely home has 3 large bedrooms, 3½ baths, a beautiful setting. About a 5-minute walk to the Lodge and the price is right at $127,500.

$32,200

Prices and offers are the factors that make sales. This 3 bedroom 2 bath home needs an offer. It is easily shown by appointment.

PEBBLE BEACH

At the price of $89,000 in Pebble Beach for a large 3-bedroom 2-bath home, in the location (just a few feet from a movie star's home), we think it is one of the best buys inside the gates. Shown by appointment.

32,500

This is only a 2 bedroom, 2 bath home, but it is by far the best buy in town in this price bracket. The wall to wall carpeting, draperies, and stove go along at this price.

About a Family Home which is
Lived In and Loved

As you enter the garden gate you find the great God Pan, in sculpture, guarding a sunny, completely enclosed garden and yard where your children can play safely and happily under beautiful trees, away from traffic, yet within easy walking distance to all schools.

The architecture of the comfortable-looking home is California ranch, with heavy shake roof and lots of old brick to contrast with the painted redwood exterior. The interior is plastered, heat is forced air, floors are hardwood. Age is perhaps 15 years.

Inside, you'll find a living room overlooking the front garden, a dining room with the rear patio view, 4 bedrooms and a study, or 5 bedrooms, if you choose. The garage has been turned into a working artist's studio, but it's easily re-converted.

The price is just $47,500 for this unusually handsome corner property in Carmel's sunniest area — and it's most convenient for family living because of its easy proximity to schools, shopping, churches, and Peninsula points of interest. May we show you? It's such a pleasure.

Taxpayers Group Opposes Override

The bulletin also states that the Carmel district, on a $743.44 cost per student basis ($706.55 on ADA basis), ranks as 14th most expensive district of the 106 of its size and type in the state; that statewide attention is being focused on the excessive costs of education and, as source of educational funds, "the property tax has been wrung dry"; that, over the past six years, there has been an increase of over $713,000 in property tax money received by the school district as a result of a seven cent overall tax rate increase, plus $27,957,800 increase in assessed valuation. The latter yielded $682,000 in increased revenue equal to a $1.06 tax rate increase, therefore "any governmental body should be able to operate well within these substantial increases."

The bulletin criticizes the board of education for allowing Superintendent Dr. Harris A. Taylor and Walter Hinton, CUSD business manager, to use their time, a district car and district materials to promote the 37 cent override; also for allowing tax funds to be spent for Dr. Taylor to "junket" to New York to interview candidates for a key position in the district and attend the American Association of School Administrators Conference in Atlantic City in connection with which he appeared on a television program.

Other criticism of the board of education in the bulletin is allowing the March 7 special override tax election, cost $1,100, to be called when trustee elections take place on April 18.

The bulletin maintains cost of school bus transportation is not a cause for the Carmel district being one of the most expensive districts, because, with transportation costs removed from all district budgets, Carmel is the 12th most expensive district of its type in the state.

The bulletin also gives seven proposals for future school financing.

EMPLOYEE RECOGNIZED WITH COURTESY AWARD

Monterey businessmen at the regular monthly meeting of the Downtown Monterey Council of the Monterey Peninsula Chamber of Commerce on February 16 awarded the January "Employee Courtesy Award" to Daniel Holmes, Jr., employee of Kramer Bros. Jewelers.

The recognition is given monthly in an effort to make all downtown shops and stores more "courtesy conscious".

Robert Littlefield, chairman of the DMC award committee, presented Dan with a Certificate of Appreciation and an instamatic camera.

COLONEL WILDER TO RETIRE

Colonel Harlan C. Wilder, (USAF) above, will retire on February 28 after 26 years of military service. His latest assignment has been commander of the 89th Military Airlift Wing (Special Missions) at Andrews Air Force Base, Washington, D. C. This department of the U. S. Air Force is responsible for providing air transportation for U.S. Presidents, (Air Force One), Vice Presidents, cabinet members and other high government officials, also foreign dignitaries. Colonel Wilder has commanded the special missions wing since August, 1964. Immediately prior to this duty, he commanded the Atlantic Air Rescue Center in Germany. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Cree L. Wilder, Colonel Wilder attended Sunset School and Monterey High School before obtaining a B.A. degree in business administration from San Jose State College in 1940. He entered the Air Force in 1941 and served during World War II in Alaska, the Pacific and Europe, both as bomber pilot and squadron commander, flying 103 combat missions. In 1949, he was granted an M.A. degree in business administration by the University of Southern California. He graduated from the Air War College in 1958.

Farr And Hudson Take New Roles

During his terms as supervisor, Hudson has been an active conservationist. He worked for the preservation of the scenic qualities of Highway One below Carmel, also a master plan to protect downcoast beauty through zoning. He fought vigorously to prevent Humble Oil and Refining Company from building a refinery at Moss Landing. His scenic easement planning promises future protection of the county's beauty.

Hudson initiated the Monterey County Foundation for Conservation, an organization of large landowners who desire to retain open space greenbelt despite inevitable future development. He also has been a prime supporter of the county's park acquisition program and obtained an almost 300-acre park in Lower Carmel Valley, at no cost to taxpayers, by obtaining cooperation of developers .

MARY ELLEN ROSBERG

Mrs. Mary Ellen Bieth Rosberg, a resident of Carmel and the Peninsula for the past 30 years, died Sunday in a local hospital after an extended illness.

Mrs. Rosberg was born on March 15, 1907, in Fairmont, Minnesota, and was a graduate of St. Elizabeth's Hospital in Chicago. For many years she served as a private and hospital nurse on the Peninsula and during World War II was a lieutenant (jg) in the U.S. Navy Nurse Corps.

With her husband, Ture Rosberg, she made her home at Monterey Road and First Avenue in Carmel.

In addition to her husband, Mrs. Rosberg is survived by three brothers, Frank Bieth of Mason City, Iowa, Robert Bieth of Fairmont, Minnesota, and Jack Bieth of Arlington Heights, Illinois; two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Hodson of Fairmont, Minnesota, and Mrs. W. K. Curtis of Phoenix, Arizona.

Rosary was recited on Monday evening in the Mission Mortuary and requiem mass was celebrated on Tuesday in Carmel Mission Basilica. Burial took place today in the Golden Gate National Park, San Bruno. The Mission Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Pallbearers were Frank Morton, Douglas Forzani, Harold Cohen, Lou Gold, Ralph Green and Chester Gillette.

Friends wishing to make contributions in memory of Mrs. Rosberg may do so to the Monterey County Cancer Society, P. O. Box 1028 Monterey.

CARMEL GUN CLUB SHOOT SUNDAY

The Carmel Gun Club will hold its first outdoor shoot and barbecue in 1967 on Sunday at 11 a.m. Competition will be in skeet, rifle and pistol events. The gun club is located on the Comings lumber mill grounds two miles up the Carmel Valley Road. Membership is limited to 50 men. A few openings are available at present at a cost of $60 the first year, $25 a year thereafter. Further information may be obtained from the club's secretary-treasurer, H. C. Hilbert, by telephoning 624-6177.

TV SHOW ON CARMEL

On March 1, at 7 p.m., Carmel will be featured on national education television, Channel 9, in a program, "Your Money's Worth." The program was arranged by a former Carmelite, Mrs. Stewart Billett (Ciji Ware), who was here last summer laying the ground work for the show. She is employed by the network in New York.

The program will feature Mr. and Mrs. Deen Rowe and their young daughter, Barbara. Deen is associated with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rowe, in the operation of the Village Shoe Tree. This shop and others in Carmel will be shown during the program, also local scenes.

In the past two weeks, the same channel has featured a program on another Carmel resident, Dr. Eric Berne, author of "Games People Play." Last month the channel ran a program on the late famed poet, Robinson Jeffers of Carmel Point. These programs also included many shots of Carmel.

School Board Acts On Personnel Items

Although all schools in the Carmel Unified School District were closed yesterday in honor of George Washington's birthday, the board of education met last night to take care of personnel matters and hear reports.

Mrs. Lucy Foster, teacher at River School, was given an extension of time to complete work for a master's degree at Stanford University undertaken while on sabbatical leave this year. Serious illness in her family caused her to seek approval of a necessary change in her planned schedule.

A letter of resignation was accepted from John R. Bosch who has been drafted. He was employed as a one-semester replacement for Kenneth Wiese, industrial arts teacher at Middle School, who is on sabbatical leave. A satisfactory replacement for Bosch, on a trial basis, has been obtained, Superintendent Dr. Harris A. Taylor informed the board.

Authorized was an application from the Carmel district for a National Defense Education Act (NDEA) financial grant for a program to improve guidance, counseling and testing services for high school and elementary school students. Outline of the program will be presented to the board by the administration next month.

Trustees Clayton Neill Jr. and Steven Sassoon were appointed to serve with Superintendent Taylor and Walter Hinton, business manager, as a committee to conduct a final inspection of the Carmelo school library before the district accepts completion of this new construction.

Mrs. Ed Coffin of the Student Employment Service operated on the Peninsula by a 16-member volunteer committee in cooperation with the Monterey office of the State Department of Employment, demonstrated the work done by this public service by means of a commentary on a series of color slides.

Miss Phyllis Howard, assistant manager of the state employment office, stated the greatest demand in her office for student workers, 16 years old and older, came from the Carmel and Pebble Beach area. Thirty-six Carmel students are now registered for work under the SES program.

"We never have enough Carmel students for our needs," Miss Howard commented, and added that Carmel students have proved to be highly satisfactory as workers.

Miss Patricia Schultz described the remedial reading work she has been doing at Tularcitos School for 16 children from low income families, all of whom are on welfare. This program is financed by NDEA funds.

OBSERVING BIRDS AT LAGOON

On the third Wednesday afternoon of every month, Captain Elgin B. Hurlbert (USN Ret.), president of the Monterey Peninsula Audubon Society, sets up telescopes at the Carmel River lagoon after meetings of the society's bird-a-month-club. Captain Hurlbert is seen above with Mrs. James Moody. They are observing green winged and cinnamon teal, ruddy ducks, buffle head ducks (butterballs to hunters) and mallards. Last Wednesday they observed yellow headed blackbirds which are strange to this area. The telescope Captain Hurlbert is using was given to the Audubon Society by Mrs. Tom V. Goodman in memory of her husband. The Carmel River lagoon area is a state bird refuge. In December of 1914, Carmel bird lovers met to discuss forming a branch of the national Audubon Society. In January of 1915, officers were elected and by-laws framed.

Receives Promotion

RICHARD WECKER

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Wecker of Oliver Road recently received word that their son, Richard, has been promoted to Army private E2 upon his completion of basic combat training at Fort Dix, New Jersey. Richard, who is a graduate of Junipero Memorial High School and a 1966 graduate of Saint Mary's College in Moraga, California, will be attending officer's candidate school in May at Fort Eustes, Virginia. Richard received his promotion two months earlier than is customary under an Army policy providing incentive for outstanding trainees.

Richard, who is now in advanced individual training, will be eligible for another "accelerated" promotion at the end of this particular phase of his training.

Travels Viet Road

Army Specialist Fourth Class Robert R. Hastey, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Hastey of Pebble Beach, recently returned to his base camp in Phan Rang with his unit, the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, after more than a year of combat in the jungles of Vietnam.

Robert, who is a member of Headquarters Company 2nd Battalion of the brigade's 327th Infantry, traveled by land, sea and air in the longest convoy thus far in the war. The journey, which covered 400 miles, proved that the infamous Vietnamese Highway One is open and safe for civilians to traverse. The land movement covered stretches on the highway that had not been traveled since the French departure over a decade ago.
